THE POLES CELEBRATE.

THE HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR CONSTITUTION.

Has the Imperial Government Blundered in the Newfoundland Affair—Conservatives Claim That France Has Beaten Them—The Rothschilds Acted Well.

LONDON, May 4.—A Vienna dispatch says that the hundredth anniversary of the Polish constitution was celebrated with enthusiasm in Gallica. A large number of Poles were present from Germany, Hungary and more distant parts of the world. The guards on the Russian side of the frontier were strengthened with the view of preventing the Russian Poles from attending the celebration, but a considerable number managed to make their way across. The air resounded with Polish patriotic hymns, and in Cracow a crowd of young men of good families, marching arm in arm, sang, "No, Poland shall not Die, While we Live." The mention of Russia was frequently and roundly hissed, while cheers were given for the Kaisers of Austria and Germany and with unusual heartiness for the latter, in apparent recognition of the liberal policy of Prussia toward the Poles. The celebration did not have the entire approval of the Austrian authorities, and it was remarkable for its spontaneity and the evidence of the vitality of Polish national feeling.

ROTHSCHILDS ACTING GENEROUSLY.

Purporting to give the Rothschild view of the protest offerred in certain Hebrew quarters against the handling by the firm of the new Russian loans. It is stated in substance that the Rothschilds have the deepest sympathy for their oppressed fellow Hebrews of Russia, and have shown their sympathy repeatedly in a substantial manner and are ready to do so again. That they, as bankers, could in no wise influence the will of the Czar, and any attempt to do so could hardly fail of a serious result, so far as affecting the condition of the Russian Jews, and that it would be most unwise for them to make the interior policy of the Russian government a ground for refusing relations with Russian finance, and that such a course would undoubtedly give offence to other states as implying that the Rothschilds assumed to be the censors of the governmentf with which they have dealings. The Rothschilds, it is said, are subscribing for the relief of Russian Jews in an amount much larger than any profits they are likely to derive from the Russian Loan.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S TROUBLE.

Something like dismay has been caused in British government circles by the news that Newfoundland has treated with contempt Lord Salisbury's menaces of coercion. The general feeling is that the government has stupidly blundred on the Newfoundland question and is in danger of greater blunders. Even leading Conservatives acknowledge that France has beaten England in a game that from the first was what Americans call "bluff" and that the French have gained their sole object of creating a rankling irritationu between England and one or more of her North American colonies; for Nova Scotia is well-known to sympathize with Newfoundland. England, says Sir Wm. Whyteway, has virtually consented, in compliance with French demands, that the Newfoundlanders should be warned off some 700 miles of coasting, in order that the French may at any point they wish erect temporary scaffolds to dry fish caught by seven small boats, for that was the whole French fleet last June and seven acres would have been all that they could have put to practical use.

CERTAIN OF LONG IMPRISONMENT.

Notwithstanding the high bail, even the highest exacted in a criminal case in England, Captain Verney, M.P., is closely watched by the police. The evidence against him is said to be conclusive, not only as to Miss Basket, but many other cases of abduction, and he is certain of a long term in prison.

FORTY-SEVEN HOURS A WEEK.

The striking carpenters and joiners demand a reduction of the working hours to 47 a week, and an advance of wages from 9d. to 10d. an hour.

RE-INFORCED.

Owing to gravity of the situation at Seran, in Belgium, a force of troops arrived their hastily to-day to reinforce the gendarmes exhausted by the day's struggle with the strikers.

THE BLACK DIAMOND CITY.

Debating Society—Post Office Matters—The Masons at Church.

NANAIMO, May 4.—A lively debate took place in the Y.M.C.A., rooms on Saturday night, and was largely attended by a number of rising politicians, who were anxious to ascertain the feeling against the Government, for voting down Milne's Sunday Observance Act. Mr. Nettle was the first to speak and he endeavored to prove that it had been clearly shown that it was physically beneficial to man to have one day's rest in a week, whereby he could recoup the strength he had expended during six days of labor, and during his remarks he was frequently applauded. Mr. W. Roos and Mr. Tully Boyce endeavored to support the Government, and although both believed in a day or even two days' rest per week, they were under the impression that it should not be forced upon the working-class by the legislature. Mr. Boyce's remark were particularly impressive and he was repeatedly cheered, but when the vote was taken the result was 23 for the affirmative and 17 against. Many refraining from voting.

POST OFFICE MATTERS.

The increase in the mails of late have become so extensive that the present accommodation of fittings in the interior have become utterly inadequate. Persons visiting the post office for papers are kept waiting quite a time as the postmaster is compelled to sort them from a large stack, on account of the pigeon holes for the reception of letters in alphabetical order being too small to contain them. It is understood that the post office is to be refitted and enlarged in the interior, but when it will be undertaken is a question that only the post office inspector can answer, and until it is done the public must put up with a certain amount of inconvenience.

A CHALLENGE CUP.

The Association Football Club are to be congratulated upon their selection of a cup, which they intend putting up for competition, open to all comers in the province. The cup is of solid silver and beautifully embossed, and on the top stands a man with a football in hand ready to throw out. It is about 30 inches high and attached to it is a beautiful stand, which increases the beauty of the prize. Inscribed on the front is the following: "Grand challenge cup of the Nanaimo Football Association, 1891." Whoever wins the trophy will carry it to their city and exhibit it for one year, when it must be returned to this city and again competed for. It is fully expected that Victoria will be the first to enter the lists.

LITTLE HAPPENINGS.

It is rumored that the Hamilton manufacturing company are endeavoring to make arrangements to purchase the Nanaimo foundry and land attached, so that they may be enabled to start business in this city on a large scale. Mr. Munroe, the manager, visited the city some time ago for the purpose of ascertaining what the prospects were and his report is said to have been a favorable one.

A keen competition promises to take place for the contract work of building the new hotel.

The by-laws for purchasing the city lights and remunerating the mayor and alderman were submitted to the ratepayers to-day. Little interest was manifested over the event and at four o'clock the votes were being counted.

The amateurs did not clear expenses by their visit to Victoria. They intend to visit Vancouver for a charitable purpose.

The Masonic lodge turned out in full regalia yesterday and attended the Presbyterian church.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

A Movement Will be Made to Increase the Sessional Allowance.

Special to the TIMES.]

OTTAWA, May 4.—There is a probability that a proposal will be made this session to increase the salary of the Premier by $3000 and a like sum added to the session indemnity of the leader of the Opposition. Another effort will certainly be made to increase the sessional indemnity of members by $500. Last session a round robin was largely signed agreeing to this, but as Mr. Laurier refused to give it countenance, it was not put to the House.

Senator Hawthorne is still hovering between life and death.

Another batch of petitions in favor of prohibition and also in opposition to the importation of Chinese labor was presented when the House met to-day.

Mr. Charlton continued the debate on the address; first dealing with the question of dissolution and saying that the Government was not actuated by motives to obtain reciprocity, but with a desire, through their arbitraty and unconstitutional action to keep themselves in power. He dealt fully and forcibly with all the leading issues of the day.

I leave for Nicola Valley to-night, but I have deposited $500 with W. J. McKeon of the Oriental Hotel to back Brady against Gertie or any other horse entered in the Queen's plate race at the Driving Park, Saturday, May 9th.

JOHN GILMORE.

Bolero is lame. The $35,000 colt has not been given any exercise lately, and he is at present in a bad shape. The trainers and others at the Gravesend track and people connected with the Dwyer stable confirm this report. One of the most conservative of the trainers at the course said, in reference to the matter: "It is common talk among trainers, and other people who have seen Bolero working of late, that there is something the matter with him, but just where his trouble is located is difficult to discover. It has been noticed when Bolero has been pulled up after galloping that he showed a little weakness in one of his hind legs. It has been found necessary to put Bolero's legs in the soaking tub time and again, and especially on Monday, and that would not be done unless there was something the matter with him."

The Philadelphia agency sent the same number, and these were reinforced by a similar number from the agency in this city last evening. The men who started from here are all fully armed with revolvers. It is understood among the Pinkerton men they are to meet at a certain place in Pittsburg, where they will be in readiness at a moment's notice from the mines to swoop down upon any mob or violent gathering of strikers attempting to take advantage of the state troops a sence from the coke works. Rifles are at hand at the workshop headquarters, near the mines, and if there should be any outbreak there is every likelihood of another slaughter of the alien strikers by Pinkerton armed forces.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 4.—It is now stated that in the re-organization of the Cabinet the department of public works will remain in the hands of the acting secretary, and that the new position of posts and ways will be under the present postmaster, General Senor Gochicoa, should Sebastian Canacho still persist in his refusal to accept it. Much valuable machinery and the cars were totally destroyed. The flames communicated with the church, but the building was saved after a desperate struggle. The office of the Republican then caught, and so rapid was the spread of the flames, that the printers at work had to flee from their cases. The magnificent building was soon gutted, and only part of the paper could be issued. The total loss is $350,000, well insured.

INTERIOR INTELLIGENCE.

The Accident to Mr. Thomas Ellis and Family—The Natural Gas.

From the Sentinel.]

The reading of the thermometer for the week ending last night, at Kamloops was as follows:

Mean tem	52.8
Mean of max	68.1
Mean of min	36.7

Purser McMorris, of the steamer Lytton, plying on the upper Columbia, states that the Colville Indians who are now coming up the Columbia, fishing and hunting bear, have started fires along the river and lake shores that are doing great damage. Deer Park has been almost destroyed, a fire having run through it, and another fire was burning about half way up the lower lake.

A serious accident occurred at Rocky Point, a couple of miles from Grand Prairie, on Monday evening last. Mr. Thomas Ellis and family—eight persons in all—were driving from Vernon to Kamloops, when at a most dangerous point on the road one of the traces became detached causing the pole to drop. This started the team, and the horses dashed ahead at a furious pace, upsetting the vehicle and throwing its occupants out. With the exception of one of the children all were very seriously injured. Mrs. Ellis and her sister, Miss Wade, are in a precarious condition, while Mr. Ellis and three of the children are seriously injured. The upset rendered the whole party unconscious, and were it not that a team laden with the baggage followed, all might have died from loss of blood. The particular spot at which the accident occurred is very rocky, and against the rock the occupants of the trap appear to have been thrown head foremost. The driver of the baggage team was fortunately there shortly after the upset, and at once drove on to the nearest house, that of Mr. W. H. Smith, by whose assistance the injured parties were removed to his house. Dr. Tunstall, of Kamloops, was telegraphed for, and was in attendance as soon as possible. The sufferers are getting along as well as can be expected under the circumstances.

John Connors was yesterday sentenced to three months' imprisonment for having supplied an Indian named Tomah with whisky. Tomah was given whisky enough to make him drunk.

On Thursday evening last a couple of hundred head of cattle passed through Kamloops consigned for the coast markets. The animals, which were shipped by Hull Bros. from Calgary, were of a superior breed and in excellent condition.

Nothing further has yet been done to test the quality of the natural gas found at Kamloops last week. Arrangements are, however, being made to have the find practically tested, and it is hoped that the gas is the right thing. Those who pronounced it marsh gas are altering their opinion on the point.

A gay party of bachelors left town the other day for a trip up the North Thompson. Some of them took the precaution of wearing dust coats, as the breezes were high and the sand plentiful. One of the merry party dropped off at a certain place on the road. He did not wear a dust coat, and when picked up by his friends on the return trip there were observed on the back of his dust-covered outer garment the impression of a pair of delicate hands. His friends have been indulging in all sorts of surmises as to how the impression got there, and persist in saying there was a lady in the question.

A young man named Frank A. Willis, a Yankee, was on Thursday brought before Judge Spinks on a charge of having stolen a horse, saddle, bridle, etc., from Alexander Hardie of Copper Creek. The culprit pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

To the Interests of this Province.

Mr. F. T. Hebler, representative of R. T. Williams' Directory of British Columbia (edition 1892) will, in the early summer visit all principal cities of the Dominion and United States of America to place this most useful work to the best advantage and to advertise the whole province throughout the year. Office, 29 Broad street, Victoria.

A STORY OF SUFFERING

ENDURED BY THE FRANK LESLIE EXPEDITION.

Who Besides Being Afflicted With Sickness and Hunger, Have an Incompetent Leader—They Have to Eat a Dog—Something about Alaska.

By the arrival of the steamer Mexico was learned the first definite and authentic news regarding the fate and movements of those members of the Frank Leslie Alaska exploration expedition remaining in Alaska after the separation of E. J. Glave and Jack Dalton from the original party.

Although great reticence has been and is still maintained by all the interested parties, enough has been ascertained to show that the failure of the expedition was due to the incompeteney of the leader of the party, both in executive ability and a knowledge of the country, which it was intended to explore. His deficiency lost him the confidence of his colleagues. In the case of Mr. Glave, the veteran African explorer, who had seen years of service in that country under Stanley, in the course of which he acted as governor of one of the most warlike tribes, it resulted in such deep disgust that he left the party shortly after it had entered the territory of Alaska.

His lack of foresight and consideration for his co-workers and his unfitted physique for this kind of work led to the imposition of many unnecessary hardships on them. It was due to exposure and lack of nourishing food that Mr. Schanz became seriously ill. It had been determined in one instance that at least six months would be consumed before the party would be able to renew its supplies, and yet after the party had been out only about six weeks the rations began to run short. It also soon became evident, after entering Alaska the leader to whom the others looked for information possessed but little more regarding the country than they. He placed his reliance almost entirely on the natives and prospectors who had been in the country for some time, and depended on them, instead of being the guide and executive head of the party himself.

It may be stated in this connection that Wells' original plan contemplated that he and Price, whom he engaged in San Francisco, were to be the only white members of this exploration expedition. This, however, did not appear to be the intention of his employers, for they sent Messrs. Glave and Schanz to accompany and aid him by their experience gained in other similar fields.

In the course of various explorations, over 150 men were employed as guides or packers, and altogether 12 lakes and 12 rivers were explored, of which half were new discoveries. While the members of the party were suffering from lack of food they subsisted principally upon roots and what they could obtain from occasional settlements of natives. At one time some of these roots resulted in all of the party being taken ill. Their bodies became badly bloated, but ultimately all bad effects disappeared.

Glave, as previously reported, left the expedition, after it had reached Arkell Lake, and returned to New York. Lake Arkell lies due north of Chilcat Pass, and extends from its northern end in a northerly direction 44 geographical miles, its greatest width being about two and a half miles.

After Glave's departure the remaining members of the party, comprising E. H. Wells in charge, A. B. Shanz and William Price, navigated the lake to its northern extremity, from whence they detoured into Tahkeena river. This lake is an entirely new find, and was named after one of the proprietors of Frank Leslie's Weekly. The Tahkeena was descended to where it joins the Yukon, in an easterly course, about 78 miles distant. Mr. Schantz declares that this river is really the upper part of the Yukon, and that Lake Arkell is the true source of that great strea n. This is in contradiction of the generally accepted idea, that Lakes Calendemann and Bennett are the head waters. During the passage through Tahkeena proper, Schanz took frequent observations and notes, and mapped the stream for its entire length. Its mouth, where it joins the parent stream, is about 300 yards wide.

Continuing down the Yukon in a northwesterly direction the party stopped at Camp Davidson, 35 miles below Forty Mile Creek, where Schanz was left to receive medical attention, as he was suffering from inflammation of the bowels. Wells and Price retraced their course up the Yukon to Forty Mile Creek, which enters the Yukon from the south. Up this they took their way to its head quarters. They then made their way in a westerly direction to Tannaha river. After proceeding down this in a northwesterly direction a short distance they entered Tokala river, coming from the Southwest. It was Well's intention to proceed up this stream to its head waters, thence portage in a southeasterly direction so as to strike Copper River, the descent of which was one of the principal objects of the expedition. Before, however, they reached the head of the Tokala their provisions gave entirely out and they had to eat a dog which they had with them. Deterred by the prospective hardship if their original plans were followed, the party returned to Tannah, thence to the Yukon again, which they reached September 3, 1890.

Glave's departure occurred on June 8, and the party was thus 87 days in reaching this point from what was called Glave's Gap, or Camp 14. Wells continued down the Yukon and reached St. Michael Bay on September 19. Nushegak was reached in December, where the stress of the weather kept the party till January 29, when they left for Natmal 17 nays later. From here they proceeded to Kodiak, which they reached March 1.

After recovering from his illness at Camp Davidson, Schanz continued down the Yukon to St. Michael. Here he was joined by William C. Greenfield, special agent of the census bureau. Both left the Nushegak, September 8, where they arrived October 8. Here Schanz went into winter quarters until spring when he left to explore the lake, the existance of which he had heard from J. W. Clark, agent of the Alaska Commercial Company. Greenfield in the meantime had left for San Francisco. Schanz was accompanied on his exploring trip by Clark, and after traveling about 350 miles in a northeasterly direction, along the various rivers and making numerous portages, he finally reached this hitherto unexplored body of water. It proved to be a magnificent sheet, 70 geographical miles in length and 10 miles across at its widest portion.

He found it to be the deepest body of water yet discovered in Alaska. His available facilities permitted him to sound it only to a depth of about 600 feet, at which distance he found no bottom. This was about one-quarter of a mile from shore. In honor of the gentleman who had given him the first information regarding the lake, he named it Lake Clark. After navigating to the head of the lake, he found it was the source of the Noghelin River. This river, after a course of 70 miles, was found to flow into Lake Ilyamna, the largest body of water yet discovered in Alaska. The river was found to be full of rapids and falls. The largest of the latter was named Petroff Falls in honor of the chief census agent of Alaska. Lake Ilyamna was crossed in sleds, and the journey continued west to Bristol Bay.

After reaching Lake Clark, Schanz, while companion returned to Nushegak from Bristol Bay, made his way down to the coast to what is known as Alaska Peninsula, which he crossed to Kalmai and thence across Shelikoff straits to Kodiak, which he reached March 19, or 18 days later than the Wells party, which he met there.

Here the entire party chartered the Lydia for Sitka, which they reached on April 16. From here they were brought to this port by the steamer Mexico.

All of the journey while in the interior of Alaska was made with sleds drawn by dogs, in canoes paddled by natives, or on foot where neither of the former methods was possible. Many and severe periods of hardships were undergone. The most serious was encountered by the Wells party in its attempt to reach the upper waters of the Copper river. So great was the privation and suffering that the men under Wells refused to proceed, and this compelled him to abandon the carrying out of his original idea of the expedition to follow down the course of Copper river from the nearest accessible point of its head waters. During this time Schaas, one of the white guides, who joined the expedition on Forty Mile creek, went insane, but later recovered his reason.

All the members of the party brought here by the Mexico are now in excellent health and leave on the steamer Kingston to-night and will arrive at Seattle about 3 a.m., Saturday. They will immediately take the train there for San Francisco and thence go east.

WA, Ont. April 27.—Before this reaches TIMES readers, Parliaill have been fairly opened and k of legislation mapped out—if the speech from the throne counted on as giving any faint to what bills the Government to present for discussion. Judgn the past the speech put in the of His Excellency, the Governor, by the first minister and his ues, is more prominent for what not, rather than what it does. It seldom gives any true indiof what we are going to receive way of Government measures. vents the private bills which eady been given notice of are in number than has been the the past five or six years. So number 130, but the time for g applications will not expire o or three weeks of the session e, so that this number will be rably increased. CANADIAN NEWS.

Late Telegrams from the Eastern Canadian Cities.

Contractor A. W. Godson, Toronto, was committed for trial on two charges of fraud on the city preferred against him. Judgment was reserved on a charge of forgery.

Henry Longworth, the leading farmer and stock raiser in Prince Edward Island, is dead. He was formerly collector of customs in Charlottetown, exsheriff of Queen's county, and filled other important offices in church and state.

All reporters cannot be "wretched," as Chief Justice Begbie declared they were. A reporter on the La Minerve, named Fillon, has gone to Algiers to join Cardinal Lavigerie's soldier monks. Now, is that not more than a Chief Justice would do?

The Earl of Erne, Imperial Grand Master of the Orange order, has been invited to visit Canada this summer. It is said the cause of the postponement of the meeting in Kingston of the Supreme Grand Lodge was to enable the distinguished gentleman to visit it.

Rev. Father Lacasse, director of the college, with two scholars attempted to cross the river at Terrebonne, Que. The boat was carried over the dam by the swift current and the director and one of the scholars, named Courtemanche, of Worcester, Mass., were drowned. The other scholar, named Bastien, managed to hang on to the boat and was rescued.

An important pastoral letter has just been issued by Archbishop Fabre, of Montreal, on the subject of Sabbath desecration. The Archbishop denounces all forms of Sunday amusement. Sunday rest, he declares, does not mean idleness, but positive acts of worship towards God. The letter puts the working classes on their guard against those labor organizations which are entirely outside of church influence.

The fifth annual report of the Niagara Falls Park commissioners has been brought down in the Ontario Legislature. In reference to utilizing the power of Niagara Falls, it says the commissioners, with the consent of the Government, have made an agreement with a strong syndicate of English capitalists, owners of large electrical works at Deptford, England, who have deposited $20,000, which is to be enforced if operations for the utilization of the power of Niagara Falls are not commenced before March 1, 1892. The object of the syndicate is to generate and transmit electricity of enormously high voltage for motive power, lighting and general purposes to all the cities, towns and manufacturing points within a radius of 150 miles from Niagara Falls. The syndicate is to pay for such privilege $25,000 per annum for the first ten years, the rental increasing to $35,000 in the twentieth year.

A Remarkable Statement.

A gentleman largely interested in the wholesale drug trade recently declared, "that from his extended knowledge of the business in Canada he could assert without fear of contradiction, that the sales for Diamond Dyes in one month, were equal to the total sales of all makes of common crude dyes in one year." There is no doubt, we think, about the correctness of this estimate. The ladies, who are the consumers, need not be reminded of the great superiority of Diamond Dyes. They are, as in the past, the only trustworthy and reliable dyes now sold for domestic dyeing, and never fail in their work, when properly used.

April showers may be the forerunner of May flowers and they are also certain to bring with them cold in the head, which if neglected, develops into catarrh, perhaps into consumption and death. Nasal Balm never fails to give instant relief, and will permanently cure the worst case of catarrh if faithfully used. Sold by all dealers.

The Queen City Building Society helps you to save money. It will aid you in building a house. You may by its means become your own landlord. Prospectus & Bylaws at 46 Fort street

THE MUD LARK AT VANCOUVER.

The Vancouver Telegram, with considerable more verbosity than wit, discusses low water at the outer wharf and the "domestic quarrel" growing out of it. In this connection would it be impertinent for us to ask what the Mud Lark has been doing at Vancouver? And, should we observe that only for the Mud Lark the Empress would not have been able to dock at Vancouver. Will the Telegram deny it? Until the Vancouver papers are able to deal candidly with the cause which led to the employment of the Mud Lark in Vancouver harbor, the less they have to say about the outer wharf the better.

U. S. CONSUL EWING.

J. EWING, United States consul at Vancouver, in refusing to honor the toast to the Queen, was not merely discourteous but un-American. Patriotism of the most spread eagle kind does not require that a man should forget to be a gentleman. Except that Consul EWING was prepared to honor the toast to the Queen his only course as a gentleman was to have absented himself from the banquet. He who will eat another's salt and at the same time refuse to submit to the etiquette of the occasion, not only violates a law that has the highest sanction, but manifests a temper which disqualifies him from any function incident to international relations.

STEAMSHIP SUBSIDIES.

Parliament may during the ensuing session have occasion to consider various matters connected with the steamship lines which our Government and people are alike desirous of seeing created or encouraged. The authorized arrangements at present are three in number: 1. An Atlantic service is to be subsidized to the extent of $500,000 per annum for a weekly service for 10 years. 2. A projected fortnightly service to Australia and New Zealand from a British Columbian port, with a subsidy of $75,000 in addition to what may be offered in the other colonies. 3. A monthly service to China and Japan, for which $80,000 per annum has been promised by Canada and $225,000 by Great Britain. Should the Imperial Parliament prefer to raise its grant to $375,000 in order to provide a fortnightly service, our contribution will be increased to $125,000.—Empire.

The foregoing, coming from a Government organ, may be presumed to be something more than a figment of a Tory editor's brain, and of course the British Columbia contingent are prepared to endorse it. But will the British Columbia contingent demand a quid pro quo in the shape of an appropriation for harbor improvements? Will it demand a drill shed? We understand that the Colonel conferred with Mr. MILNE as to what was wanted in the shape of a custom house. Is it necessary to remind the Colonel that unless the subsidized steamers discharge Victoria freight at Victoria the present custom house will suffice?

THE SUGAR QUESTION.

"Granulated sugar is sold in Buffalo for five cents per pound," says the Commercial. In Rochester it goes at 4¼ cents—by the barrel.—Rochester Herald.

In Hamilton it is sold for eight cents a pound, or fourteen pounds for a dollar. That's where the N.P. comes in.—Hamilton Times.

The Montreal Gazette brands the above statement of the Hamilton Times as a falsehood, and one which "is becoming habitual in the Liberal press." The Gazette explains that the "cheaper price of sugar in the United States is owing to the removal of duty on the raw material, and that N.P. has as much to do with the discrepancy in the cost of the article as with controlling the planets in their courses." Further on, however, the Gazette observes that "if the people of Canada want their sugar as cheap as the United States there is no serious difficulty in the way of their being satisfied. The finance minister has merely to imitate the McKinley bill in a few particulars, striking all duty from raw sugars, and making good the loss of revenue thus caused by higher imposts on liquors, luxuries, and those articles susceptible of successful production in Canada, which have not as yet been adequately fostered." If what the Gazette here suggests is not prima facie evidence that N.P. has all to do with the price of sugar in Canada, then we fail to understand English as the Gazette uses it. The Gazette is more zealous than logical. But why not remove the duty from raw sugars and increase the duty on liquors and luxuries? We fail to understand why the Finance Minister should fail to do that. Mr. FOSTER is a temperance man and has a large constituency in Canada of the same mind. Remarkable that he does not live up to his principles, or that the teetotlers of Canada do not drive him to it. In the language of our Premier, "there is a darkey in the wood pile."

TOWING IN AMERICAN WATERS.

The fining of the tug Lorne by Collector BRADSHAW, coupled with "additional indignities," moves the Tacoma News to exclaim that "it seems to be easier for a ship to pass through the eye of a needle than to pass Port Townsend to enter a lower Sound port." This paraphrase, of course, is not prompted by any especial affection for British tug boats. It is Tacoma as against Port Townsend that the News is speaking for, still the argument used by the News in behalf of the Lorne is as good as if it was specifically intended for that unfortunate tug boat. Collector BRADSHAW, according to the News, in fining the Lorne, exceeded his authority, that power resting alone with the judiciary. "But the Lorne," says the News, "violated no law when she towed the ship Oriental into Tacoma from the sea. In Mr. BRADSHAW'S explanation to the press on the 24th, he omitted any reference to the saving clause of the law. It is as follows: 'This section shall not apply to any case where the towing, in whole or in part, is within or upon foreign waters.' The Oriental had been towed from foreign waters, that is from waters over which the United States had no control whatever."

The point, however, upon which the News lays most stress is that though the fine be remitted by the Secretary of the Treasury, the Lorne will never know whether she violated the law or not. The Secretary will remit the fine merely saying that the Collector had no right to levy it, and the Lorne will labor under the impression that she has escaped the penalty because she was not proceeded against properly." With this hint it may be supposed that the Lorne's owners will make it a point to ascertain the exact reasons for the Secretary's ruling. With Tacoma and Port Townsend at war, and with British tug boats mixed up in it, the latter, it should seem, have need to become "sea lawyers."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The repeal of the raw sugar duties in the States and the consequent cheapening of refined promises to lead to the establishment of new industries. Mr. HAVEMEYER, the great refiner, thinks jam factories will be started to compete with those in Britain which turn out 100,000 tons of jam every year. To this MR. WILLIAM LLOYD GARRISON, a tariff reformer, retorts: "Only think of the heresy which this admission implies: Free trade not only nurtures infant industries, but enables them to compete with the pauper labor of England." Do the "free traders" in this Province, who are temporarily protectionists because they are interested in the Vancouver refinery, see the point?

At the adjourned meeting of the Grand Trunk shareholders, on the 28th ult., the TUPPER crusade against President TYLER received its quietus. TYLER'S policy was approved and the retiring directors were re-elected by 47,230 to 20,790. It will be remembered that the Grand Trunk president charged our High Commissioner with an attempt to bribe the railway. The shareholders now practically say that they believe the charge to be true. No Canadian who knows TUPPER ever doubted it.

Neck or Nothing.

The Nanaimo amateurs had a fairly good house Saturday night, and played well to the audience who went to hear them, but they did not receive the support they merited, owing no doubt to several causes. The returns from the performance, after every effort at economy had been made, both by Mr. Lougard, who managed the entire affair locally, and by the company themselves, amounted to only $141, while the expenses exceed that amount considerably.

Bound for Alaska.

The steamship City of Topeka arrived from the Sound at an early hour this morning and left at 11 o'clock for Alaska. She had very few passengers, but a hold full of freight for the miners, canners etc. She will coal at Departure Bay.

The Boys Will Dine.

The members of the flourishing institution, Seghers' Council, have completed all arrangements for dining to-night and they intend to enjoy themselves. The occasion will be graced by the presence of His Lordship Bishop Lemmens.

Induce Him to Stay.

J. Doron is coming to the coast on business, and will visit Victoria in a few days. Lovers of aquatics will welcome Mr. Doron as one of the Toronto Rowing Club's crack oars in single scull rowing. He is, besides, "a jolly fellow," and should be induced to stay over for the sports.

Of Little Importance.

Five drunks, a vag and an Indian, charged with supplying liquor to Indians appeared in the police court this morning. Five fives, an order to leave town, and a twenty dollar gold piece or in default three months in jail satisfied the police magistrate that the law had taken the proper course.

Another for Victoria.

Captain Marshall, of the ss. Empress of India, in acknowledging the receipt of photos of his ship from Jones & Co., the Yates street photographers, takes the opportunity to say that he has seen a great many photographs of his ship but none have come up to the excellence of the ones sent him.

Where is C Battery?

Several people are asking where is C Battery that it does not come forward in honor of the celebrations of the Queen whose uniform the C Battery wears? The various other corps in Canada generally join in and a gun practice on Beacon Hill, Cedar Hill or Mount Tolmie is suggested as a good idea.

Corrig College Opening.

The formal opening of Corrig College will take place to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor. The institution is delightfully situated on Beacon Hill, and in a spot which, if healthy surroundings have anything to do in promoting successful study, should make Corrig College turn out some brilliant scholars.

New Live Stock Arrived.

The horses brought in by the Islander for Mr. Tolmie Saturday night, answer in every respect the descriptions given of them in the TIMES a week or so since when their records and pedigrees were published. They will form a valuable addition to Victoria's stock. The animals are in as good condition as can be expected after such a long trip.

Rough Weather for Sealers.

A letter from one of the sealers to a friend in the city, states that the weather during the present season has been unprecedently rough, and must have caused serious damage among the sealing fleet. The letter in question brings the first authentic news of the schooner Triumph. She was seen on the 10th April, and reported having gone through some very rough times. Her catch then amounted to 235 skins.

The Bicycle Committee.

The Bicycle Committee will meet to-night to decide the question regarding the cushion and pneumatic tire machines. The advisability of either barring or handicapping them will be fully discussed, and it is to be hoped, in the interests of sport and fair play, there will be a good meeting to practically and intelligently discuss the matter so that no injustice may be done to either machine.

He Has Done It Before.

The man caught by the Port Townsend customs officials last week while smuggling opium over in a flower pot on the steamer North Pacific, seems to be an old hand at the business. He has made several trips on the Kingston in the same manner, carrying a good-sized flower pot with a different flower in it every trip. His ministerial look, face and dress fooled the customs officers.

Business Change.

The well-known firm of Hall & Goepel has been dissolved, by mutual consent, in the retirement of Mr. W. J. Goepel, who will in future reside in the fast growing city of Nelson. Mr. Richard Hall will conduct the business of the firm on his own account, but will not for the present change the business title of a house which has become one of the recognized commercial institutions of the city.

Will be Heard To-Morrow.

The case of R. Jackson, charged with shooting grouse out of season, was not heard to-day as the defendant did not appear at the allotted time. He put in appearance later, however, but not before the magistrate had left the court so the case was remanded until to-morrow.

Junior Department.

The junior department of the Young Men's Christian Association which, under the management of Mr. John Boyd, have made such rapid advance, will hold a special meeting to-night at which the prizes won at the recent athletic contest will be presented. There will also be music and refreshments. Dr. M. S. Wade will preside.

News From Enderby.

F. W. Strong returned last evening from a trip to Enderby and along the line of the Shuswap & Okanogan railway. The company have got 16 miles laid and will reach Enderby next week, the weather being very favorable at present, in fact, Mr. Strong says, it is very warm. The Enderby mill is running night and day and the farmers are just as busy with their spring work.

Ross Bay Cemetery.

There were a great many visitors to Ross Bay Cemetery yesterday. The cemetery is one of the most picturesque spots in picturesque Victoria, and all who ever visit the place once are sure to wish to return. The graves in most cases are beautifully kept, and flowers and flowering shrubs are blooming on all sides, showing abundant evidence that the dear ones lying there are ever kept in loving remembrance.

Ran Away.

A horse attached to a milk cart, while the driver was attending to some customers, took it into its head to run away. He started down Store street at a good gallop headed for Rock Bay bridge. When about in the centre of the bridge the cart collided with another rig and upset. There was a woeful waste of milk (?) but otherwise little damage was done. The neck of the horse, where the collar rested, was observed to be chaffed to the bone.

Tourist Spoons and Opera Glasses.

Mr. A. A. Clayton, of the Diamond place, Government street, has now completed and ready for inspection, a large stock of tourist spoons, suitable for souvenirs of Victoria. In the bowls of the spoons are etched scenes of the Gorge, Dunsmuir Castle, Mount Baker, and other pictures of Victoria scenery. He has also just received a consignment of beautiful opera glasses, in pearl and Russia leather, which are pronounced the finest ever imported to this city.

To Meet President Harrison.

In order that Victorians may take part in the reception to President Harrison at Seattle, on Wednesday, round trip tickets will be issued from here at single rate. Excursionists will leave this city on Tuesday and return on Thursday evening. The City of Seattle will carry the President and his party from Tacoma to Seattle, and the Kingston will act as her escort on the trip, on the morning of the 6th, she being on her way to Victoria.

Mrs. Cullum's Funeral.

The last sad rights were paid to the late Mrs. Cullum yesterday. The funeral started from St. Joseph's Hospital, proceeded to Christ Church Cathedral, where the funeral services were commenced, and thence to Ross Bay cemetery, where the burial services were read. A large number of friends and mourners followed the remains to their last resting place. The grave was decorated with some very handsome floral designs.

Letters for England.

Canadian mails to Europe now go by way of New York, the contract with the Allan line having terminated. The mail steamers leave New York on Wednesdays and Saturdays, at any hour between 5 a.m. and 6 p.m., that suits the tide, and to catch them, letters ought to be posted in Victoria not later than Thursdays and Mondays. Similarly, letters in England should be posted early on the evenings of Wednesday and Saturday.

Cut His Throat.

Corporal Foran, of H.M.S. Pheasant, in getting down from the trestle work near the canteen, was badly hurt on Friday night. It was dark at the time, and not seeing where he was going he jumped onto a fence, catching his throat on one of the pickets. He was badly lacerated about the neck, and taken to the canteen immediately, where his wounds were dressed. The corporal is now doing nicely, and will be again on duty in a few weeks.

St James Sunday School.

The new school-room in connection with St. James Church, is now finished so far as the general structure is concerned. All that remains is the interior furnishing and fitting. The formal opening, however, will not take place till after the return of the Venerable Archdeacon Scriven who is now in Europe, but is expected back soon. Then the choir of the church will render the delightful cantata "The Daughter of Jairus" and the occasion will be marked by an excellent concert.

Southward Bound.

The steamer Umatilla left at 11 o'clock this morning for San Francisco Among her passengers were the following from Victoria. Thomas Prentice and wife, Miss Prentice, Mrs. J. H. Johnson and child, Ed. J. Mahoney, John Perkins, Sister Mary Providence, Sister Mary Zehperine, Sister Mary Angilbero, C. N. Costello, wife and children, H. C. Biglow, wife and child, Col. J. C. Paine, Capt. W. Smith, H. L. Beatty, William Proctor, wife and children, and J. W. Howes.

A Handsome Present.

Capt. Thompson has made his wife a present that she cannot but prize very highly. It is a complete suite of lady's jewels, comprising bracelets, necklace, brooch and ear rings, and is what a lady would call a "novelty." The stones, which have been on view in Mr. A. A. Clayton's window, came originally from Ceylon, and are known as Ceylon cat's eyes of a Maltese color. The setting is of Maltese design of bright gold and Roman trimmings, which show up the dark color of the stones very effectively.

The R. C. Cathedral Building.

There has been another change effected in the affairs of the R.C. Cathedral contract. Mr. Donovan has been superseded by Mr. John Teague, senior, who will act as supervising architect, and Mr. Donovan, jr., who was clerk of works, has also been placed on the retired list. It is expected now that the work will proceed expeditiously and satisfactorily.

The C.P.R. Heavyweight.

Prince Albert Saskatchewan:—Our town last Sunday was visited by some men of weight, both in a metaphorical and literal sense. There were Messrs Van Horne, Supt. Whyte, R. B. Angus, D. McIntyre, and other railway magnates. Mr. Van Horne weighs 272 pounds, and Mr. White 210. There were five others in the company all of whom weigh over 200 pounds. Who dare affirm that railway management is not a healthy occupation? Mr. Van Horne was weighed in the balance (at the station), and not found wanting. He turned the scale at 272 pounds. How is this for a bloated capitalist? Just after Lent, too!

Among the Orphans.

The little ones in the Protestant Orphans' Home have fought la grippe and other ills incidental to spring time, and are now prepared to blossom out with summer, a credit to themselves and their worthy matron, who is a true mother to them. Everything and everyone about the Home looks cheerful, happy and contented. During the month of April the little ones have not been forgotten. Mr. Caton has sent a bag of potatoes, A Friend has donated fish, Mr. Rodgers, milk; Mr. A. R. Reid, clothing; Mrs. Byrnes, pencils and pens; Miss Sweet, socks; Mrs. Ashdown Green, clothing; Mrs. Lewis, clothing; Mr. Doughty, a basket of apples. The donation of 200 hot cross buns on Good Friday were from A Friend.

Woodcuts as Likenesses.

A few weeks ago the TIMES reproduced in wood the physiogomies of of some of British Columbia's distinguished citizens. The effect was terrific. A few of the subjects were not as pretty as they thought. If, however, they imagine they were libelled, they can make up their minds that they are at least in good company. President Harrison and suite are being depicted most atrociously by the artists of the San Francisco Examiner and Call. As a matter of fact, the TIMES' woodcuts were superior to the general run that appear in the daily press. There are some men whom no art can make pretty. If among our legislators there are men of this kind it is the fault of their stars and not the engraver, and there is nothing for them to do but accept their misfortune philosophically.

A Revenue Cutter Needed.

The need of a Dominion revenue cutter on this coast is becoming more apparent every day. It is well known that the Indians of the west coast get just what they like from the American side and smuggle it over, which if stopped would add to the revenue of the Government and give those who pay duty a fair show. There is another report now, however, which shows more urgently the need of a cutter, viz: that American sealing schooners are on the west coast securing Indian crews. This is a direct violation of the Dominian fisheries law, and should be put a stop to immediately. The Government say that a cutter will be supplied next year, but they would find that by supplying one immediately they would save enough revenue to pay for a large part of the boat.

Proper Pleasure on Sunday.

It was very pleasant at the Hill yesterday while the elements behaved themselves, and they did so till the band played its last tune, and the people had nearly all reached home. Then the rain poured, and the record was kept up for the fifth consecutive Sunday. The band played remarkably well, a fact fully appreciated by the immense number of people congregated. It played several sacred pieces, which had an effect in keeping with the day and occasion; none of the compositions discoursed was such as might not be played on Sunday. Superintendent Sheppard had an officer on duty, but there were no complaints to make to him, although his presence had a deterrent effect on the youthful element and others inclined to be a nuisance if there were any such present.

Robbed on the Train.

One of the Raymond excursion parties, who visited the coast recently met with a serious loss while returning East over the Northern Pacific. On arrival at the West Hotel, Minneapolis, it was found that about twenty of their trunks had been robbed, entailing a loss of several thousand dollars. The robbery was committed on the train somewhere between Tacoma and the Twin Cities. The party left Tacoma on Monday, having the trunks checked clear through, but stopping over a day in Spokane Falls, did not reach Minneapolis on the same train as their trunks. It is probable that more than one man is implicated in the robbery, as it would hardly be possible for one person to go through so many trunks in the length of his division, the stealing ranging from a $350 diamond broach to a pair of embroidered slippers. The railroad company will do all in its power to discover the thieves.

How Sunday Was Spent.

Yesterday dawned bright and fair, and gave promise of being a pleasant day. All the morning the harbor was crowded with boats filled with pleasure seekers, the Gorge, of course, being the principal rendezvous. The churches all had good congregations, and for the first Sunday in some weeks the ladies were able to show off to advantage their Spring bonnets and gowns. Truly the processions, winding their way homeward after service presented a pleasing sight—the fresh and blooming faces of the ladies, the different styles and vari-colored dresses and bonnets, showing splendidly along with the generally-dark Sunday suits of the men. In the afternoon it seemed as though the whole town was out. Everywhere one went he met crowds of happy, smiling, people, men and women, young and old, rich and poor, all alike seeking enjoyment and fresh air. True, the weather became a little hazy, and looked somewhat threatening towards evening but that did not keep the people at home. Of course the Park drew the largest number, nevertheless, other old and favorite haunts were not forgotten. Bicyclists were to be seen dodging around, and all the pleasant drives were crowded with turnouts, from a Chinese mule cart to the handsome Victoria. But alas! for all those who stayed out too long—and had forgotten their balmorals, umbrellas or waterproofs,—about a quarter to five the long-threatened rain began to fall, and the pleasure-seekers were compelled to hurry homeward, but not before they had had a most enjoyable Sunday afternoon.

DIFFERENT DOCTORS.

Physicians of the Radical and Mytical Schools.

Their Methods In the Treatment of Their Cases and Personal Bearing Toward Their Patients—Physicians' Faith in Themselves.

Not the Regulars and the Homeopaths. Discussion as to their respective merits is quite as much out of place nowadays as a heated argument on the claims of Calvanism and Arminianism. People hold their medical faith at the present day, through no exercise of the reasoning faculty, but by sheer pigheadedness, as the old theologians were wont to hold their dogmas; and they entertain toward patrons of the opposing school, whatever it be, a contempt compared with which the "odium theologicum" is as brotherly love. The two schools to which reference is now to be made are not recognized in the cyclopedias nor among the profession; but they exist all the same, and the line which separates them is drawn clearly and sharply across all the old medical sects and "pathies."

There are all sorts of good names for these two classes of the medical faculty, writes Arthur E. Bostwick in the New York Saturday Review. We may call them the Recondite and the Familiar; the Mystic and the Frank; the Grandiose and the Simple; or the reader may choose a new designation to suit himself. The physician of the former school or class bears the same relation to his patients that an oracle of old did to its suppliants. His utterances are positive—often monosyllabic. His manner leads you to conclude at once that he knows absolutely what ails you at a glance, or at least by the aid of a few skillfully directed questions. His bearing is commonly high and mighty; if he descends to familiarity it is only too evident to those about him that he is conscious of the vastness of such a descent. Some of the most skillful and able physicians in the various branches of the profession are numbered in this class, and it is not to be denied that the effect of their bearing upon a certain kind of patient is beneficial. Some people like to have authority exercised over them; they like to feel that they are in the hands of one greater than they, who holds over them the wand of life or death, and by a twist of it can kill or cure. They do not want to know what they are taking. If they are told aught about their ailments they wish it to be done in the most learned language possible; the more Latin the better. Patients of this class are largely of the gentler sex, but plenty of the so-called sterner sex are to be found in its ranks.

The other school of medicine acknowledges, to start with, that a physician is rarely certain in his diagnosis; that he must usually experiment a little at first. He tells his patient at the outset all he knows of the case, outlines the prospective treatment, with all its possibilities of change, and, in short, takes the patient into his confidence. His manner is free from grandeur, authority or mysticism, and his language is colloquial and simple.

It is a disgrace to the human race—but we shall be forced to admit it—that for probably the majority of patients this kind of treatment, carried to its logical end, will not do at all. Only a man of the greatest good sense, combined with high education and liberal culture, can profit by the extreme variety of this treatment; and even such a one, under the pressure of physical pain, may revert to the condition of the majority. In practice most physicians of this school, much as many of them would like to be consistent and logical, are forced to adopt a half-way course, leaning more or less toward the mysticism and grandiloquence of the opposite party. A skillful practitioner will often vary his manner and methods according to his patient, thus achieving the best results.

Therefore, in practice, there is a pretty even gradation from the extreme mystical to the extreme radical physician, even some of the former admitting the theoretical correctness of the radical views, but maintaining that they are not practical. It must be admitted, however, that most of the mystics appear, outwardly at least, to have complete confidence in themselves, and to believe fully in the preternatural powers they seem to claim. Whatever they may confess to themselves in the secret recesses of their professional closets, the public never hears them acknowledge even the possibility of their making a mistake. If the disease does not yield to their blandishments—whether allopathic, homeopathic, eclectic or herbalistic—so much the worse for the disease. Let it be anathema for existing when it ought not to exist. If the treatment be altered, there is no acknowledgement that a new theory of the ailment is to be tested; the patient is led to infer that the change of medicine is part of a plan formed within the deep recesses of the mystic's brain at the outset.

THE ZAMBESI RIVER.

It Has Been Found Navigable by Large Ocean Vessels.

It has long been known that the Zambesi river is the third or fourth largest river in Africa. In its central and upper portions, however, it can not be navigated on account of rapids and falls. Its lower course, also, has not been available for navigation from the sea, because as far as was known not one of the streams which form its delta could be navigated by a seagoing vessel. Two years ago Mr. Daniel Rankin surprised geographers by reporting that the Chinde mouth of the Zambesi could be traversed at all states of the tide by ocean vessels. The news was received with considerable incredulity, says the New York Sun, but Rankin was known to be a careful man, and his report upon his discovery was exhaustive and seemed to be conclusive. He surveyed the Chinde river and his map was widely published.

On the recent expedition of H. H. Johnston he proved the accuracy of ...man's report. He ascended the Chinde mouth of the Zambesi in a steamer drawing thirteen feet of water, and had no difficulty at all in reaching the main river. Her Majesty's ship Stork, in which he made this journey, is certainly the largest vessel that has yet been on the Zambesi. He left the Stork when she had steamed forty miles up the river, as it was not deemed advisable to take her beyond the tidal influence. The rest of his journey up the Zambesi and Shiri rivers was made in small boats.

The old route to the Shiri was along the Quaqua river from Quilimane, a journey requiring several days of tedious travel in canoes until they reached Mopea, where the Quaqua is separated from the Zambesi by three miles of flat and swamp. At this point all the goods had to be carried overland to the Zambesi, involving a great deal of work.

Now, Mr. Johnston says, the trip which formerly required seven days from the sea to the mouth of the Shiri river can be made by steamer on the Chinde and Zambesi in three days, and small ocean-going vessels can travel from Europe and penetrate Africa for a considerable distance in this direction. It has therefore been discovered that the Zambesi will be more useful to commerce than was supposed.

Women and Champagne.

It is curious what a great deal women have to do with champagne, says the Detroit Free Press. The Mercehale d' Estrees was a grand dame de par le monde; also was she an excellent woman of business in right of birth, for she was the daughter of a Jewish financier. She had vineyards at Mailly, Verzy, Verzenay and Sillery, but she united the produce of them all under the one name Sillery. She bestowed special pains upon the cultivation of her vineyards, and having a good wine to sell used her social position unsparingly to force it down the throats of her contemporaries. The popularity of Sillery seems to have been the beginning of that worship of brands which is so characteristic of the modern wine-drinker. The vineyards in the Champagne department cover 138,879 English acres, which produce about 14,000,000 gallons of wine annually, of which about one-third is sparkling wine.

Latest Fad in Bath-Tubs.

It is quite possible, indeed it is very easy, to pay fifteen hundred dollars for a bath-tub in these days, says the New York Sun. For seven hundred dollars or eight hundred dollars the makers now offer tubs of iron faced with porcelain and then boxed around with marble in such a way that to all appearance the whole tub is carved out of the beautiful stone. But if you want to bathe elegantly and have fifteen hundred dollars to spare you may buy a bath-tub all marble outside and raised at one end to a height of ten feet to accommodate a shower-spray in a tall marble tower that is open at the end toward the rest of the tub. If you put this in your bath-room and cover the walls and floor with glazed tiles and set up a cheval glass seven feet high in which to look at yourself while you bathe you will be quite in the fashion and out twenty-five hundred dollars at the least.

SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 12th of April I was suffering from a very virulent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when kind Providence sent Dr. Healey, with the BALMOON KIDNEY TEA, to my bedside. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days, I was happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

It has been subdivided into plots of land containing about one acre each. Much of the shore line is rocky, having many small bays with sandy beaches.

VIEWFIELD can be favorably compared to BEACON HILL, the pride of every Victorian. It has the same sandy soil, grassy lawns, rich bottom lands, with clumps of timber, but above all it has without compare the finest views of FUCA STRAITS, UP SOUND, the SNOW-CLAD OLYMPIC MOUNTAINS, exceeding even Beacon Hill in its view, in that it has a view of the City of Victoria.

FROM ALASKA.

Arrival of the Mexico—Juneau to Victoria in a Canoe—Strange Jury List.

By the steamer Mexico which arrived from Alaska last week, we have mail advices to the 27th April.

Daniel Andrews, accused of murdering John Chapman at Juneau last February, has been bound over for trial in the United States Circuit Court in the sum of $5,000.

On Monday morning, March 16, two persons, namely E. W. Hamorock and George G. Currie, started from Juneau for Victoria in a small canoe. It is the opinion of all familiar with the waters of the inland passage that they will never reach their destination. Their object in attempting such a voyage is to gain notoriety.

The Free Press says: On another page will be found the names of the jurors for the coming term of court. They were drawn without much attention being paid to residence, existence, etc. On the list are many good men and residents and at the same time there are names of persons who are not and never have been residents of Alaska. Among this class may be mentioned the name of Mr. Samuel Kenney, who has been a resident of Seattle for a number of years and never has made more than one short visit to Alaska, though he has mining interests in this section and is publishing a forfeiture notice and from which the jury commissioner and clerk may have secured his name. We also notice the names of several who have crossed the great mythical river and passed into the realms of the great unknown. These parties Deputy Marshal Endelman has not served with a summons on account of a lack of the necessary transportation to that locality which the government should have furnished some of the officials long ago. All within reach have been served and to complete the list persons will probably be drawn from amongst the bystanders when court is called.

The revenue cutter Bear has arrived at Sitka and departed for the sealing grounds.

Douglass F. Terrell, ensign connected with the United States gunboat Pinta, died at Sitka April 25. The deceased was 28 years old and a native of Crystal Springs, Miss. He was married last October to the daughter of A. K. Delaney, Cleveland's collector of customs. Peritonitis was the cause of his death.

Among the passengers brought down by the Mexico was Captain Edward Kelly of the whaler Jane Grey. Capt. Kelly is seriously ill with pulmonary troubles. He is in charge of Marine Surgeon Charles D. Rogers, who is conducting him to the United States hospital at San Francisco. The Jane Grey is the vessel which was saved by the Thetis from destruction after being abandoned by her crew in the ice floes off Point Barrow, through the exertions of Capt. Emory and his officers in the season of 1888.

THE COMING CELEBRATION.

The Sub-Committees Report to the General Committee—Saturday's Meeting.

The meeting of the general committee re the Queen's birthday celebration held at the City Hall on Saturday evening was an ethusiastic one, many matters in connection with the celebration being discussed. Mrs. Marshall and Mr. Yates wrote stating that they would willingly grant the use of their land during the regatta, the committee of course assuming all responsibilities.

The Victoria agents of the Northern Pacific, the Union Pacific and C.P.R. wrote saying that their companies would gladly distribute any printed matter along their lines, also that the fares would be reduced during the holidays. Both the Kingston and Seattle will run for the Northern.

A communication was received from the Vancouver Boating Club, accepting the invitation to come over during the celebration.

Mr. Wm. Templeman, manager of the Daily and Weekly TIMES offered a gold medal for the two mile bicycle championship of British Columbia. Mr. J. Coolican offered a trophy valued at $25 for a bicycle race, and A. A. Clayton offers a silver cup for the same purpose. These offers were received amid cheers.

R. Jamieson offered to print 3000 programmes on the backs of some lithographed maps of Victoria at 5 cents each. Referred to printing committee.

The finance committee reported that $3500 would be necessary to pay expenses, but the meeting was of opinion that $4000 would come nearer the mark.

The printing and music committees were authorized to call for tenders for their respective wants.

A discussion as to the best means of small steamers towing barges up the Arm was ended by being left in the hands of the regatta committee, who will confer with the harbor master.

Mr. N. Shakespeare recommended that visiting press representatives be supplied with badges, so that they may be recognized. The printing committee were authorized to supply the badges along with those of the different committees. The Mayor having been requested to name an accommodation committee, the meeting adjourned.

Mothers!

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

Martin's will be open from 7 to 9 tonight.

Natives of Manipur state that Commissioner Quintin was murdered shortly after his seizure by the rebels. As the officers were leaving the hall where the durbar was held, Senaputty gave the signal for the massacre, and the unfortunate victims were speared and beheaded.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

HAVE NOT LOST A SINGLE DAY

THE ABOVE WORK IS THE OUTCOME of the recent Moral Reform Movement which took place in the Capital City of British Columbia, and which played such an prominent part in the late Municipal Elections held there. The author discusses the various phases of the question, and has endeavored to deal with the subject in a manner that will be interesting and some practical benefit to every reader into whose hands his book may fall. The position taken by the Ministers of the Christian Churches in regard to the Municipal Election above referred to is also fully dealt with, and although the criticisms may seem severe to some, the author hopes the conclusions drawn and the desire he has shown to do a service, no matter how slight it may be, to the weak and fallen, will meet with the approval of all lovers of justice and humanity.
